2 I, Stephen Russell, declare and state:

3 1. I am the Petitioner in this action. I have personal knowledge of the facts set forth 4 below, and if called to testify, I could and would testify competently and truthfully regarding 5 the following.

6 2. Respondent, Tara Walsh, and I are the parents of Evelyn Walsh (hereinafter "Evie") 7 born 1/27/18. I have financially supported Evelyn and Respondent since Evelyn's birth.

8 3. Respondent (hereinafter "Tara") and I have resided together in San Francisco with 9 our daughter since March 18, 2018. Previously, Tara and I had lived together in San 10 Francisco (where Evie may have been conceived), but after an incident whereby she threw a 11 bottle of wine at my head, I asked Tara return to New York. After learning that Tara was 12 pregnant, I paid for an apartment in Brooklyn, upgraded her medical insurance, and found a 13 specialist who could help with her high-risk pregnancy. Though open to resuming a 14 relationship with Tara, I concluded that our relationship could not heal in New York given 15 the abusive family dynamic between Tara and her family but attempted to focus on being a 16 helpful parent in spite of that though financial support, attending and helping with medical 17 appointments, and being present at the birth and sleeping in a chair at the hospital through 18 four days of recover after Tara's C-section. I needed to return to San Francisco for work and 19 asked Tara to move there to give the relationship another try, or failing that, to better support 20 Evie. She agreed after negotiating a few key terms focused on her desire to establish 6 21 months of cohabitation and not to have to work. We first moved to a house where my 22 mother was living and began looking at apartments and houses to live more permanently.
23 Tara brought her two dogs with her and nearly all of hers and the baby's things. Larger items 24 were left stored in Brooklyn, with anything necessary like a crib or car seat being purchased 25
26
27
28

1 new in San Francisco. The crib Tara selected was expandable and could grow with the baby
2 over years. We hired a nanny on a 6-month initial contract. I paid for Tara and Evie to join 3 Private Medical, a high-end concierge medical practice in San Francisco that requires pre-4 paid annual subscriptions. The cost was $45,000. Tara switched her primary care doctor and 5 Evie's pediatrician to Private Medical. We ultimately moved into a penthouse apartment in 6 the Millennium Tower under a year-long lease. Tara switched her mail and billing address to 7 our new home there. The bulk of Tara's and Evie's things remain in San Francisco, as her 8 declared reason for going to New York was simply to take a short vacation and consult with 9 her family about her diagnosis of "Borderline Personality Disorder with Sociopathic Traits" 10 and explore options after series of incidents that ranged from being caught drugging me to 11 injuring our daughter during a delusional episode.

12
14 4. Shortly after we began residing together in San Francisco, Tara began to exhibit 15 increased signs of mental instability like I had seen in the past. Tara has had multiple 16 worrisome episodes where she had thrown a full bottle of wine at me, threatened suicide, 17 made threats to harm me, attacked friends on social media she thought might be interested in 18 dating me, abused her medication, faked a pregnancy and miscarriage, negligently allowed 19 her sister's baby to consume a controlled medicine, and was generally abusive and 20 emotionally unregulated with everyone in our life. While in San Francisco, because of our 21 new baby the incidents seemed much more serious to me. Tara's sleep and medication issues 22 resulted in her spending relatively few hours with our daughter. Much of her time awake was 23 spent verbally abusing me. She threatened suicide on multiple occasions. She bought a plane 24 ticket and attempted to run away from San Francisco leaving our daughter behind. Had 25 multiple delusional episodes including one that led to Evie falling on her head from a height 26 of about 3 feet and needing to go to the hospital. Our nanny also witnessed, and Tara 27
28

1 confessed to, putting drugs into my drinks on multiple occasions (see declaration of Abrehet 2 Asmelash Tedla (hereinafter “Abby”) filed herewith. I have filed a police report for this 3 drugging (SFPD Case No. 180494149 taken by Officer Dove). I was issued an Emergency 4 Protective Order. See Exhibit A.

5
6 5. After talking to Tara’s mother and Tara’s doctor an emergency intervention was 7 advised and Dr. Abilash Gopal, M.D was recommended by Private Medical to help Tara.
8 After several individual and joint sessions with Tara and myself, Dr. Gopal spoke to both of 9 us together then individually and recommended a “higher standard of care” for Tara, and also 10 told us that Tara exhibited signs of Borderline Personality Disorder (“BPD”), as well as, 11 sociopathic traits. With Tara present, he recommended I take a strong stance on her getting 12 care saying that setting clear “boundaries” is the best way to help someone with BPD. He 13 also advised me that the path forward would not be guaranteed or easy. On his advice, I told 14 Tara that I felt she needed to enter and graduate a Residential Care program, or alternative 15 recommended by her doctors, in order for our relationship to work and for her to be a good 16 mother to Evie. I later learned from Tara that she self-diagnosed herself with BPD and her 17 New York therapist had concurred in Tara’s self-assessment years earlier. Previously she 18 had told me that she was bi-polar and ADHD which she had received treatment for since she 19 was young. Tara’s response to Dr. Gopal’s diagnosis and recommendations was to fire the 20 psychiatrist and ask him to keep her records confidential. She told me that she was worried 21 she would not get better. Then she secretly attempted to leave San Francisco with our 22 daughter, leaving behind her two dogs.
23

25 6. Upon learning that Tara was going to the airport with Evie, I filed Petition to 26 Establish Parental Relationship (FL-200) on June 4, 2018 and asked Tara’s parents for their 27 help. After speaking with her parents, Tara returned to our home and Tara was personally 28

1 served with the Parentage Petition on June 5, 2018. The Summons includes the restraining 2 order that neither parent can remove the child from the state of California without court order 3 or the other parent's written consent.

4
5 7. Because Tara's parents very badly wanted to spend time with Evie and because I 6 thought that Tara's mental and emotional state would benefit from spending time with her 7 parents, I agreed that she could visit her parents with the baby for two to three weeks. My 8 agreement was conditional upon Tara's and her parents' explicit agreement to stay at her 9 parents' home so that Evie and Tara would be safe, and further required that she seek advice 10 from her New York therapist regarding her potential BPD diagnosis and her recent episodes.
11 Furthermore, they agreed the "vacation" would last no more than 3 weeks and then she 12 would return home. Attached as Exhibit B is an email thread between me and Tara's father, 13 Steve Walsh, memorializing the conditions for Tara and Evie's travel. When she initially 14 tried to leave on June 4, 2018, she provided Bryan Crutcher, my security detail, a copy of a 15 round trip ticket to return to San Francisco in 11 days. She asked for Bryan's team to watch 16 her two dogs while she was gone before deciding later to take them, and we were in the 17 process of hiring a new nanny that Tara would be happy with. Attached hereto as Exhibit C 18 is a string of emails between me and Tara's father in mid-May through early June whereby I 19 update him on Tara's mental health. The very last text from Tara's dad states "I'm very 20 happy to hear she'll be coming for a visit—we are all very excited about seeing Evie—all set 21 up at our house to accommodate.
22

24 8. By June 22, 2018 it had become clear from my conversations with Tara that she had 25 deceived us and was planning to remain in New York and would not be returning with our 26 daughter in violation of our agreement and the automatic restraining order associated with 27 the Parentage action.
28

1 9. Shortly thereafter I was told by Tara and Tara's father that she intended to stay in 2 New York and will not return to California and was acting without his involvement and 3 support. Tara also told me that she had planted false evidence on hotlines in order to 4 compromise my parental rights and things would be "very messy" for me.

5
6 10. Additionally, Tara emailed the concierge at our apartment on June 25, 2018 in 7 response to an email notification regarding a FedEx package asking to be removed from such 8 notifications as she would no longer be staying in the building. Please see Exhibit D. On 9 June 23, 2018, Tara sent me a text stating "Well I won't give any statement until you allow 10 me to return to our home....", implying that San Francisco was our home. See Exhibit E.

11 11. I also understand that Tara has filed for a Protective Order in Westchester County, 12 NY where her parents reside. I did not have the opportunity to respond to the temporary 13 restraining order as it was granted ex parte, nor have I been personally served with a copy of 14 the restraining order but understand that there is a hearing set for July 17, 2018. It 15 apparently covers both Tara and Evie as protected parties. I will be substantially prejudiced 16 if that restraining order hearing goes through and includes Evie as a protected party without a 17 determination of the which state has jurisdiction over Evie. Also know that in the days 18 previous Tara sent numerous texts and calls that among other things included apologizing to 19 me, asking to move back in with me, asking me to come visit her in NY, and generally 20 complaining about how horrible her parents and life in New York was. In those same 21 messages, I repeatedly asked her to not to contact me and to please work through her father 22 or attorney as her texts and conversations where often also abusive and generally not helpful 23 in any way. I did agree to come see Evie though very soon and let her father know I intended 24 to come by the following week. Shortly thereafter communications with Tara and her father 25 stopped and we have not spoken since.
26
27
28

1 In these text messages with Tara from June 5 to approximately July 1, 2018 (attached 2 hereto as Exhibit F), Tara makes such comments as:

3 “I accept that I made horrible decisions and made it impossible to be with”; “I want to be 4 able to see you and for all of us to be together”; “You should come this weekend for Father’s 5 Day”; “I still love you and it hurts to thing of breaking up, but that will never affect you 6 seeing Evie.”; “I also would love to have another child(s) and give Evie a sibling”; “I do feel 7 remorse for what I’ve done”; “My whole family just wants me to be close, but living with my 8 parents is honestly not good for my mental health. You know the background very well.”; “I 9 do want help but I seriously cannot handle losing my daughter”; “Every time I look at her I 10 think of you and it hurts all the time that I ruined everything.”; “I only acted that way 11 because I loved you deeply and my mind is messed up”. ; “It’s not nice that you asked me to 12 come and got my hopes up” (in response to my asking her to come to a June 30th wedding in 13 California.; “Like 1 time” “No that’s the truth Rashmi made me. Despite what you think I 14 still want us to be together for Evie and I do still love you” In response to my asking her 15 about calling abuse hotlines.; “You should come here to be with her on Father’s Day! It’s 16 your first and it’s sad your not together”. ; “...someone told me my emotions don’t matter
17 now that I’m a mother—all that matters is Evie—that I could risk losing her if I can’t control
18 myself.”; “When can you see us? ...Nothing is better then a long hug from you but I’ll earn it 19 or at least try. Next weekend? I feel bad she’s not with you for Father’s Day.” ; “No I’m 20 not now I’m super emotional from this med change still crying—I’ll be fine tomorrow.”; “I 21 can’t help but think my mom gave BPD to 4/6 of us” “I love you a lot and I am sorry for not 22 showing it in the right ways—you are so brilliant, talented, patient, and Evie is lucky to have 23 you as a Dad”.; “It’s honestly horrible living here—it’s not healthy. I feel so sorry for my 24 sisters” “And they get into physical fights and stuff with my parents”.

1 These texts show that TARA admits to having mental health issues, the environment that 2 Evie is living in now is not safe, and that TARA is not afraid of me and does not express any 3 concerns about me as a parent.

4 12. Tara has also filed a Request for Order in San Francisco Superior Court for August 5 14, 2018 to dismiss the action for lack of subject matter and/or quash the service of the 6 Summons, stating that she was only visiting San Francisco. She also asks the Court in that 7 hearing to be able to stay in New York with Evie until the jurisdiction is resolved. I request 8 that Tara and Evie (or at least Evie) immediately return to San Francisco. Tara should have 9 sought the Court's blessing before leaving, and her claims of domestic violence are not 10 accurate. In fact, the opposite is true, and Tara is a risk to herself and our daughter. Tara 11 admits in recent texts to me that she plans to begin Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT), 12 which is a form of therapy to treat people with Borderline Personality Disorder and 13 chronically suicidal individuals and is aimed at people who see little or no improvement in 14 traditional therapy who engage in self-destructive behaviors. Even Tara's own parents have 15 been adamant that she not leave their house for fear of consequences for Evie.
16

17 13. Tara implies that she was forced to come to San Francisco from New York City and 18 that she was manipulated several times to remain here by me. She states that she never 19 intended to leave her Brooklyn residence; however, in the restraining order she filed states 20 that she is living in Westchester County at her parents' home. The protective order is also 21 filed in Westchester County. This is because Tara's parents deeply understand their 22 daughter's illness and strongly discouraged Tara from living on her own according to her 23 father. Tara texted me on June 23, 2018 that she doesn't want to live in Brooklyn and asked 24 me to pay for another apartment near her parents' home, as a result.
25
26
27
28

1 14. Tara makes strong accusations about my mental health, domestic violence and 2 financial threats about me. I am unclear what her purpose of including all of that information 3 in a motion to quash based on lack of subject matter jurisdiction over than to paint me as a 4 bad guy and win sympathy from the court for her actions in violating the Standard 5 Restraining Order. I feel the need to respond to some of her statement in this declaration so 6 that the Court is not biased against me given Tara's accusations. Specifically, I did not hire 7 security to watch Tara to spy on her. I hired security because there was a serious security 8 breach at my company which warrants temporary personal protection for me and my family, 9 which includes Evie. I also had concerns about Tara's ability to parent which is why we had 10 a nanny in place almost 24 hours a day or had a security person watching Evie. They 11 protected and helped Evie and Tara in a myriad of ways never harassed Tara. As you can 12 see from the declaration of Bryan Crutcher, the lead of the security team and other staff, Tara 13 took full advantage of their services, which also include personal services and a concierge 14 service. Tara had Bryan and his team pick up prescriptions, food orders, and laundry soap; 15 she asked them to watch her dog while she went to New York; she was made vegetarian food 16 and given personal training; and she also asked them to provide her transportation from the 17 airport in New York to her parents' house when she landed on June 4, 2018. They also 18 screened for a nanny for the parties for when Tara returned from New York. She also invited 19 Bryan and his family over for a cake for Evie's 4th month birthday.

23 Many of the other accusations made by Tara are dispelled in the declarations filed 24 herewith by Evie's former nanny and other staff. My chief of staff, Bryan Crutcher is a 25 retired Vallejo Police Officer, he should be found credible and would not violate any laws or 26 put anyone at risk.

27 15. I have never been physically abusive toward Tara and would never harm Evie. Given 28

1 that I have security 24/7 (and Tara had security on her as well), one of the security guards
2 would have seen these incidents Tara describes as abusive. Instead their declarations 3 describe Tara's anger, abuse and manipulation of me. As recently as June 23, 2018, she 4 texted me "I seriously love and miss you". We also joked with each other in the same text 5 thread. On June 25, 2018, without further incident, she filed the protective order.

6
7 16. Evie has lived in San Francisco longer than she lived in Brooklyn, and certainly longer 8 than she has lived in Westchester County. Evie's father, extended family, nanny, and 9 pediatrician are all in San Francisco. The psychiatrist seen by Tara (Dr. Gopal) who 10 diagnosed as BPD is in San Francisco. Most of the persons who would be witness to the 11 allegations made by the parties are in San Francisco. Most of the incidents described by 12 Tara involving Evie occurred in San Francisco. This is relevant information for the Court 13 for its discussion with the New York Court.

15 17. Tara admits to lying to me about my conditions for her to visit her parents in order to 16 get away from me as she was "desperate to get away from me". Tara could have done a 17 multitude of things within the law, including filing for a Temporary Restraining Order; 18 asking the Court's permission to go with Evie in New York, or filed a custody action in New 19 York. Instead she lied to me and has fled California with our daughter with no apparent 20 intent to return. The status quo before she left should go back into effect. I filed a 21 Parentage Action in San Francisco because I learned that she planned to leave with Evie 22 without my permission and her caregivers and family were telling me she needed serious 23 help for our daughter's and her own sake. I did not manipulate her into staying each time; 24 instead family, friends and doctors were able to talk with Tara and then she thankfully would 25 choose to stay and cancel her own flight. On the day she took Evie without permission to the 26
27
28

1 airport, she later told me that never actually intended to leave but was simply acting out and 2 wanted me to understand the consequences if I left her or did not agree to marry her.

3 18. I did not serve Tara the restraining order. The person who signed the Proof of Service 4 can be called to testify if requested.

5 19. Given my experiences with Tara over the past few months I have no confidence that 6 Tara can safely care for our daughter or that she will not attempt to flee with her again. She 7 clearly does not care about court orders or written agreements. The evidence will show that 8 Tara intended to move to San Francisco. However, until that is resolved, Tara should be

Steve,

Thanks for agreeing to this. When you can, please see if you can get Tara to also send a short note acknowledging the conditions. She has verbally agreed, but it's important for her to have something in writing and abide by terms so she is not in violation of the restraining order.

Best,

Tara and Steve Walsh:

As you know there is a restraining order in place preventing both Tara and I from leaving the state with Evie without the other's permission. I am giving Tara permission to leave CA to visit you in NY under the following conditions. 1) She will likely be traveling on June 9th and arriving in the late evening; I'd like at least one of her parents to meet her at the airport for her to stay exclusively at her parents' home during the trip. 2) I'd like her to return to CA with the baby within 2-3 weeks and agree to take no steps legal or otherwise that would delay or avoid that. 3) I'd like her to get the advice of her family and her NY therapist and other care givers regarding her BPD diagnosis and recent behavior.

I am also happy to have my attorney follow up with something more formal, but if these conditions are acceptable, Tara is free come visit Chappaqua. I hope you all have a wonderful time with Evie and will keep me regularly updated on how everything is going.

Best,
Steve Russell

In addition to Unit 55D, Ms. Tara Walsh is also listed in Unit 10G.

Would you be kind to let me know how to move forward.
